DETAILED ACTION

1. This application is a continuation of SN 10/188,434. A preliminary amendment has been filed on July 19, 2004 and Nov. 21, 2003. Claims 1-9, 19-27, 34-54, 56-61, 14-67, 71-79 have been canceled. Claims 10-18, 28-33, 55, 62-63, 68-70 are pending.

2. Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 11-17, drawn to R1 is phenyl compounds, classified in class 546, subclass 234. If this group is elected, generic claims 10, 55, 62 can be prosecuted together with the elected compounds to the extend that R1 is aryl optionally substituted.
- II. Claim 18, drawn to R1 is thienyl compounds, classified in class 546, subclass 212. If this group is elected, generic claims 10, 55, 62 can be prosecuted together with the elected compounds to the extend that R1 is thienyl optionally substituted.
- III. Claims 10, 55, 62 remaining compounds, drawn to R1 is other heteroaryl moiety, classified in class various, subclass various, depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed species is also required.
- IV. Claims 28-33, drawn to indolylpiperidines, classified in class 546, subclass 201. If this group is elected, generic claims 55 and 62 can be prosecuted to the extend of claim 28.
- V. Claims 63, 68-70, drawn to method of treating disorders selected from depression, anxiety, urge incontinence or obesity, classified in class 514, subclass various, depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disease and a single active ingredient for treating the elected disease is also required..

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Art Unit: 1625

Inventions of groups I and II-IV are independent and distinct because the chemical structure of the different groups differ from each other in elements, chemical structure and chemical property as to not being recognized as a general class/subclass of compounds. It is evidenced in analogous compounds that when R1 is phenyl, the compounds have MCH1 activity (CA 136:96697). When R1 is thienyl, the compounds have prenyl transferase inhibition activity. When R1 is broadly heteroaryl optionally substituted, the compounds are useful in treating obesity.

Inventions I-IV and V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product as noted in US 6,720,324. see col. 153 claim 4.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai; In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996).

Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include all the limitations of the product claims. Applicants are reminded of propriety of process of use claims in consideration of the "reach-through" format, which is drawn to mechanistic, receptor binding or enzymatic functionality. Reach through claims are considered lacking of descriptive and enabling support from the specification. Thus, rejoinable process of use claims are those with particular disease named with efficacy support from the specification for treating the particular disease. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01. Filing of appropriate terminal disclaimer in anticipation of a rejoinder may speed prosecution and the process of rejoinder.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1625

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the groups/species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the groups/species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
